

An abstract painting in dark, monochromatic tones. The composition is dominated by large, textured areas of dark grey and black. There are prominent curved shapes, particularly a large, sweeping arc on the right side. The brushwork is visible, creating a sense of depth and movement. The overall mood is somber and contemplative.

THE WORKS

When the adverse forces clash, he finds harmony. Balancing between geometry and distortion, mathematical precision and intuitive finishing touches, traditional craftsmanship and creation of new techniques, Paul Bik explores what lays at the boundary between contrasts.

His work, in both process and the outcome, reflects his personality. Introvert by heart, he alienates himself in the quiet, elaborate process of creating precise forms just to deharmonize them with extravert, imperfect, statement-like final gestures. Yet, the tension they bring is subtle enough not to let the imbalance dominate the final message.
